SITUATIONAL AWARENESS

- White House press secretary Kayleigh McEnany tweeted October 5th that she tested positive for Covid-19 on Monday morning and will begin to isolate. McEnany is at least the 11th person close to President Trump to have recently tested positive for the virus. She says she is experiencing no symptoms. Source: CNN.com
- Having eased lockdown measures over the summer, European countries that claimed to have the coronavirus under control are once again seeing a surge in infections. In last week's report, the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control said Europe's death rate has been rising. In response, restrictions are being re-imposed by Germany, the UK, and Spain in an effort to contain the spread of COVID-19. Source: CNN.com
- Gov. Gretchen Whitmer said Monday, October 5 that a statewide mask requirement remains in effect despite the Michigan Supreme Court's invalidation of a law that underpins her orders to control the coronavirus pandemic. She pointed to a separate order issued by the state Department of Health and Human Services in June — under a 1978 public health law — mandating face coverings in enclosed public spaces and crowded outdoor places. The governor said the "fallout" from the high court's decision was "still being ascertained." The ruling means she needs approval from legislators to extend a state of emergency and cannot act on her own. Source: Click on Detroit
